

Occupational Safety

BodyLogic has a system of in-house training protocols to reduce the number of muscle injuries—back injuries specifically—that occur on the job. The program is tailored to the lodging and food-service industries, where a high percentage of back injuries occur. The program focuses on ergonomics and preventative protocol. Circle 215